--Here's an opportunity to become a leader in your school and your profession.

How does the school library community let the public know who school library media specialists are and the crucial role played in impacting student achievement?

The answer is in your hands!

In 2002-2003, school libraries became part of ALA's @your library® campaign.

In partnership with the American Association of School Librarians (AASL), it helps foster a greater collaboration with other types of libraries; enhances the professional development of school library media specialists; and provides customizable tools and resources that support the advocacy efforts of school library media specialists, their programs--and their students' achievement.

--Here's an opportunity to get involved in advocacy at the building, district, community, state and national levels.

The Retreat will give you the tools to:

- Increase public awareness of the significant contributions made by school library media specialists through school library media programs to further the academic achievement and lifelong learning of our students;
- Strengthen a belief in the value of school library media programs and school library media specialists; and
- Position school librarianship as a desirable career opportunity.

12 Continuing Education Hours will be offered to all workshop participants

Who should come?

- School Library Media Specialists
- School Library System Directors
- School Library Supervisors
- Technology Coordinators
- Youth Services Librarians

All affiliates and school library systems are encouraged to have representatives at the Leadership Retreat (turnkey training opportunities!) It's open to all who want to increase their advocacy skills!

Accommodations?

We will return to Hurlburt House (Ecology House), which was being renovated last summer. The rooms accommodate two people; each room has its own bath & air conditioner. We will fill this dorm on a first-come, first served basis,

What to Bring?

This is an informal gathering. Shorts, jeans and your favorite library t-shirts are appropriate. You may want to bring a sweatshirt/sweater, umbrella, and raincoat. Games, radio, coffeepot and a flashlight are handy. We will have access to Cornell's exercise facilities and pool. You may also want to bring good walking shoes as Ithaca and Cornell have many places to explore. Our dorm is a ten-minute walk from the workshop site.
