

BookBrowse

An affordable readers' advisory solution for public libraries

Exceptional books do more than just engage readers with compelling stories: They offer us windows into the lives of others, or mirrors to reflect on our own.

BookBrowse seeks out exceptional fiction and nonfiction books, and provides all the information readers need to decide which books will be just right for them.

"BookBrowse is a wonderful, easy to use service that provides excellent book recommendations. We love the thorough reviews, read-alikes, author interviews, excerpts and reading group guides."

Ali Birnbach, Mill Valley PL, CA

A powerful and user-friendly readers' advisory resource with a twice-monthly online magazine to keep readers up to date with the best new books — all linked back to your library's OPAC.

There is so much to see, read, and enjoy on BookBrowse that I can't get it all in. I keep it open in my browser at all times. I just adore it!

Eileen Kontrovitz, Ouachita Parish PL, LA

Great for book clubs! Carefully selected books, categorized by genre, time period, setting and theme, backed up with extensive reading group resources, make BookBrowse particularly useful for book clubs.

"BookBrowse just gets better and better over time - the richest content of any readers' advisory service by far."

Carol Kubala, librarian & readers' advisory moderator at WebJunction

A service patrons will adore, at a price librarians will love!
